

Is there a group of community members who are working with the school as part of the construction process?

As superintendent, I've asked a group of community members to be a part of what I will call the community liaison team. This team of local citizens will meet with me and with the architect following our monthly job conference with the contractor (once that contractor is selected) during construction. This team of community members will get an update on the construction process and will also have an opportunity to ask questions of the architect and myself regarding the construction process. While this group will not be responsible for making decisions regarding the project, they will be an important connection between the school and the community. Members of the community liaison team are Aaron Sauerbrei, Dale Neil, Chad VanDaele, Kim Brown, and Ted Vorwald.
